Shivery and Shaky
Wheat Below $1
What is Modesty?
Canada's Strange Roads

By Arthur Brisbane

WALL STREET WAS SHY, NERVOUS AND SHAKY yesterday, "fear of a new flurry in the money market."

Money lenders and Federal Reserve combine to treat severely the public goose that lays the golden eggs.

The goose will get tired of laying eventually.

Various issues of United States Government bonds sold at the lowest prices for the year in "heavy liquidation."

As usual the foolish lambs sell their good securities to keep the poor ones.

You will read this morning how earnestly the special Congress is working for farm relief. You will also read that wheat dropped below $1 a bushel, for the first time in 14 years.

If you know a farmer that raises wheat, tell him later: "The Federal Reserve, destroying confidence in American business by encouraging usury, will be re-elected, first of all, in low prices for farmers. The pain goes to the weak spot."

What is modesty? When Darwin visited Patagonia and the cold regions of Terra Del Fuego, ladies came out of their huts to look at him. But they would not be seen until they had arranged their faces, hair, and put on certain ornaments.

Modesty demanded that. But they wore no clothing at all.

Officially of the tennis court at Wimbledon propose to make all women players wear stockings because modesty requires it.

The authorities wonder whether Helen Wills, at Wimbledon, will play without stockings, as she is said to have done at Antwerp. That is something to worry about.

Canadian National Railways, owned by the people of Canada, and profitably managed by them, increased profits for April by more than 60 per cent.

How do you account for that? American high finance will assure you that a government cannot run anything successfully.

Also the Canadians, on their side of Niagara Falls, operate a power company owned by the people and profitably managed.

On the side of the Falls, Niagara belongs to private individuals, who also make it profitable.

There is this difference. Canadians buy the electric power of Niagara on their side at less than one-third the cost of the power generated on this side.

First Audit of City Books in 13 Years

For the first time in 13 years auditors from the division of accounts of the state department of corporation and taxation have begun an audit of the books of the city of Waltham.

Although the work is supposed to be done tentatively and each municipality is assessed its share of the expense of maintaining the division, the last state audit of the city's books in Waltham was in 1915.

Perjury Costs Man $300 and Jail Term

Michael Gagliano, of Boston, was sentenced to 18 months in Plymouth jail and fined $300 by Judge Brewster in the federal court for perjury.

It was charged that Gagliano had in making application for citizenship before Assistant Naturalization Examiner Allen F. Church, Gagliano was asked by Church, under oath, whether he had ever been arrested. He said he had not. The government charged that he had been arrested for various offenses.

Filed in the real estate column of the Boston Evening American for perjury.

Yale to Make Extensive Study of Teeth

New Haven, May 22.—An intensive study of the teeth in relation to the body in general has been perfected by the Yale School of Medicine and will be instituted July 1, according to an announcement by Free, James Rowland Angell. The project has been made possible by a grant from the Rockefeller Foundation.

A study group composed of physicians, surgeons, radiologists, bacteriologists, dentists and pathologists has been formed. Investigations of the condition of the teeth and the bacteria to be found at their roots will be carried on in co-operation with fundamental research in the structure and function of the teeth in health and disease.

The purpose of Yale is not to interfere with the training in dental technique as now practiced in schools of dentistry, but to create a liaison between dental technicians and physicians.

205 Society Folk Caught Gambling

Shanghai, China, May 20 (AP)—A flurry was caused among some groups of international society folk of Changsha's international settlement today by announcement that the police plan to prosecute those whose names were taken down at a raid on an alleged gambling resort. The police have stated that 205 names were taken during the raid.

Cloudbursts Ruin Crops

Plover, Czechoslovakia, May 20 (AP)—A series of terrific cloudbursts destroyed a vast area of crops and fields here last night. Hundreds of farmsteads were put under three feet of water.

Minister Is Elected of Librarian Group

The Rev. Frederick T. Parsons, librarian at the Congregational library, was elected president of the Special Library Association of Boston at the annual meeting at 240 Newbury st.

Other officers elected were: Miss Lorraine A. Sullivan, vice-president; Miss E. Louise Lucas, treasurer; Miss Ruth Canavan, secretary; and Miss Dorothy St. J. Manks, assistant secretary.

Miss Alma Savage, executive of the Macmillan Company, was the principal speaker of the evening.

The association's problem is solved by taking a six-weeks apartment and the best advertised daily in the first column.

Face and Neck Covered With Itchy Pimples. Healed by Cuticura.

"My face and neck became covered with little pimples that were hard and red. They itched and burned so that I scratched them, which only made them worse. I could not sleep or get any rest on account of them. They continued for about six weeks and I thought I would go insane."

"Finally I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I sent for a free sample and found that the first application somewhat relieved my trouble. I purchased more and in about two weeks I was healed." (Signed) George Esteb, 34 N. Fourth St., Asasica, Conn.

Soap 25c. Ointment 75c. and 50c. Tubes 25c. Sold everywhere. Sample each free. Address: Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. 10, Malden, Mass.

WEDDINGS AND DEBUTS CROWD SOCIETY CALENDAR FOR MONTHS

Miss Rosamond Sears to Make Her Bow at Presentation Tea Next Saturday on Parents' Estate in Weston

JUNE IS NO LONGER SACRED TO THE SOCIETY BRIDE. THIS year the attention of the elite is divided between beautiful brides and the eager throngs of debutantes already dancing into the social scene on the very first day of June with mid-winter. And every day brings invitations to some important presentation affair, along with beautifully engraved wedding invitations. What wonder, then, that mothers of popular girls wonder where one season ends and the next begins? June is the only answer. It is really commencement time for debutantes as well as for college and new lives for the brides. With so many frothy frocks on the horizon the month promises a gay social round.

ONE OF THE FIRST BIDS TO OCCUPY THE SOCIAL SUN IS Miss Rosamond Sears, who will be presented next Saturday at the Weston estate of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Sears. From that day forward the fashionable alternates with bewildering rapidity between weddings and coming out parties or debut events through the busiest June that Boston society has marked on her calendar for many years. Ever the great makes her formal bow at a seven party at the Dover summer home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Grew of Marlborough st., on June 12, before the guests at the wedding of Ellen Halliwell and Harold I. Pratt two days before have fairly lured away pleasant memories of one of the very elaborate nuptials of the year. Miss Genevieve Mitchell is also to wed on June 10. Sidney Winslow, 34, will be the bridegroom.

ONE NOTES THE PREFERENCE OF SMART SET BRIDES FOR attendants from many different points, a distinction which serves to remind one of the wide circle of friendships among the elite of each class and of a well travelled bride. Brides, too, have their little distinctions, a favorite being the implied exclusiveness of a coming out party staged in a country home such as the lawn party for Miss Hope Richardson at the Readville home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Richardson, the 7th of September, and the tea at Cohasset for Elizabeth Bird, daughter of the Paul Birds, on September 28. Jane Powning is to be presented the same day at a dinner dance at the Essex Country Club. A glance at the debut schedule also shows the following: Catherine Rice, at a dance at the Dedham Country Club, November 16; Virginia Rice, tea at Hotel Somerset, December 3; Charlotte and Carolyn Crosby, twins, at their Brookline home, November 11; Helen B. Allen, luncheon at Algonquin Club, November 13; Deborah Brown, dance on December 1; Carolyn Day, dance on December 4; Elizabeth Hovey, dance on January 7, 1930; Katherine Carter, luncheon at Christmas vacation.

ANN M. BOOS AND PHYLLIS VOSE SHARE PRESENTATION honors at a tea at the Women's Republican Club on December 34; Edith Milton has a tea at her Marlborough st. home, October 30; Ann Frothingham, a dance at the Hotel Somerset on December 7; Patricia Frince, a dance at the Country Club, November 1; Margaret Lang, tea at Women's Republican Club, December 12; Anna Channing and George Mose, a joint dance at Hotel Somerset, October 31; Marjorie Bvatt, party on December 1. And this is just the beginning! The girls who are returning from schools abroad and those sailing for summer travel have not planned anything beyond an indefinite "October" date mentioned so frequently that it looks as if another bride's month is to divide interest between bride and bod.

SINCE THE ANNUAL CHESTNUT HILL GARDEN SHOW HAS become second in importance to the Horticultural Society's exhibition, the committee in charge has devised a way to divide up the enormous task of putting it on this year. Sponsors have been chosen for each class, making the sponsor responsible for the exhibit in her charge. Already a keen competition has arisen between these sponsors, who display their classes to the public on June 5, 6 and 7 on the estate of Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Lapham, 280 Heath st., Chestnut Hill. The exhibition is open free to the public and every year thousands of garden enthusiasts come to view and admire the products of the magnificent gardens cultivated on the neighboring estates. This year the show is to be larger than ever, and staged as usual, under tents on the spacious lawns of the Lapham place.

NEED MORE TIME IN HOSPITAL DRIVE

Announcement that the $300,000 Bonaventure Hospital fund drive is to be continued for another week has been made. Contributions totaling $11,659, or $4200 more than was reported last week, were taken in. The total to date in the drive is $77,930. Unannounced special gifts will bring the total well over $85,000 and the manufacturer's committee has yet to make report of its two weeks' work.

The women's division, headed by Mrs. Henry C. Fish, again headed the list, reporting the total of $10,000 for the two weeks. Division under Paul O. Curtis is leading all five of the men's divisions, exclusive of doctors, with a total of $2075. Second place in divisions is held by the doctors' group, under Dr. W. L. Black, with a total of $1847.

and made of more people and calls for higher qualities than any other occupation.

The government official also preached the elimination of waste in the homes of America.

"Each woman faces housekeeping single-handed," he said. "To keep her house successfully, she must know an appalling number of things."

"She must know how to cook imagination to the menu and know how to set a table attractively. She must know how to make her home comfortable and inviting. She must know the worth of labor-saving devices and how best to save her own time and strength. She must know clothes, how to

A FEATURE THIS YEAR IS TO BE THE GARDEN ARRANGEMENT striving for design, effect and harmony of color in a space no, to exceed 200 feet. A gold medal from the Horticultural Society is inducing several entries, among them Mrs. A. C. Burrage, Mrs. Edwin S. Webster sponsors the uniform window boxes, Mrs. William K. Jackson the miniature garden on a tray, and Mrs. Bryan Perner the arrangement of cut flowers in metal containers. Mrs. James D. Colt presents another cut flower exhibit, Mrs. Frederick S. Mead the display in still life featuring flowers and accessories, Mrs. George S. West the children's class and Mrs. Edwin S. Webster a new or rare-growing plant. Other classes are the employes, sponsored by Mrs. George Bramwell Baker; the modernistic flower container, by Mrs. Henry W. Harris; arrangement of bleeding heart, Mrs. John Ramsey, and of iris, Mrs. Clement S. Houghton.

GEORGE BRAMWELL BAKER, WITH HIS TALENT FOR putting things "over the top," was chosen chairman of the flower show committee with Mrs. Clement S. Houghton as vice-chairman. Most of the committee are enthusiastic gardeners who are exhibiting in one or more classes. They are Mrs. George B. Baker, Mrs. W. Wadsworth Bank, Mrs. James D. Colt, Mrs. Ernest B. Dane, Mrs. Henry W. Harris, Mrs. Henry G. Lapham, Mrs. Francis W. Lee, Mrs. Frederick S. Mead, Mrs. John B. Ramsey, Mrs. Richard Saltmarsh, John P. Ramsey, Walter G. Rees, Mrs. J. Montgomery Sears, Mrs. Edwin S. Webster and Mrs. Leonard Weller. And this is a committee working for the sake of love of beautiful flowers and the desire to interest others in their cultivation.

SUMMERY WEATHER INFLUENCED THE CLOSING OF MANY more town houses this week when plans for removal to North shore places materialized. The Frank Clark Cosby home in Brookline is being closed and the family, including the twin debutantes soon to make their bow to society, depart for Marblehead Neck tomorrow. Mrs. and Mr. Richard Olin are to close their town house next Wednesday and go to Beverly Farms for the summer. They have leased their place at Woods Hole, Cape Cod, this season. Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Minot of Marlborough st. leave a week later for Beverly Farms. The simple life of a New Brunswick camp is the choice of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Myopia Hunt region. And one of the interesting small visitors to the fashionable shore colony this summer is to be Frederick Mario Guardabassi, who arrived at the Pasadena home of Capt. and Mrs. F. M. Guardabassi, Roseland Wood, last month.

ANOTHER GARDEN EVENT OF INTEREST TO THE SHOREWARD board carven occurs Friday when the North shore garden club holds its annual plant sale at the exercising ring on Mrs. William H. Moore's estate at Prater's Crossing. Mrs. George Cabot is in charge of an innovation in the form of tea and sandwiches for sale at the address, where the club members will be followed by a tour of the other six show places provided for this occasion. The formal garden of Mrs. Quincy Adams Shaw, the lovely woodland path on the estate of Mrs. Richard D. Sears, the low walled garden of Mrs. W. R. D. Dexter each offer a special charm. The others are on the places of Mrs. Gordon Abbott, Mrs. Gardner M. Lane, "The Chimney" and the Smith Point garden of Mrs. John R. McGilley of New York. Mrs. John Carter is acting chairman in charge, assisted by many prominent society women of the vicinity.

"America the Beautiful" led by Mrs. Miss G. Del Castillo. There were various reports followed by the address of the day, "The Commerce representative, who was the principal event of the forenoon meeting.

Women travel themselves more systematically and thoroughly for tasks they have in mind than men do, in the opinion of Mrs. Eugene S. Lawson of Tulsa, Okla., second vice-president of the federation, who is an Indian princess.

In her native costume, Mrs. Lawson, whose Indian name is Nipoma, will sing for the delegates. She was formerly musical chairman of the federation and music is her hobby.

At her home in Tulsa she has one of the most complete individual museums of Indian and early American life in the world.

"There are many women of Indian extraction in club life in any section of the country, so it is nothing unusual for me to be here," she said. She is, however, the first of Indian descent to attain high prominence in the federation.

"To my mind the greatest contribution that can be made by women's clubs in America lies in establishing an understanding between women of the city and the country. There has in recent years been a noteworthy widening together of rural and city women.

Close Competition Expected at Chestnut Hill Horse Show on Memorial Day; Eastern Horse Club Races in June

THE LISBOME GRACE OF EUGENIA FROTHINGHAM IN DANCE numbers has become a byword for Tarsipolichon excellence among her friends and it was, therefore, not a great surprise to many to hear that the young girl, who has time immemorially been a group of Chinese girls from the Denison House a special number for the Community Service festival on July 4. Miss Frothingham will come up from the family summer home at Manchester all through June to put her "young" into form for the day of the competition for the Richard Saltonstall Memorial Fund. Among those who have entered for this prize are Miss Betty Sargent, Miss Edith Towner, Miss Eleanor Little, Miss Catherine Little, Miss Nancy McNeil, Miss Anne Beebe, Miss Betty Tricomb, Miss Janet MacNeil, Miss Emily Saltonstall, Miss Mary Rogers, Miss Merdie Bemis, Peter Saltonstall, William T. Curtis, Jr. and many others.

MEMORIAL DAY BRINGS THE CHESTNUT HILL HORSE SHOW, for which society prepares with special emphasis an artistic excellence. This show will be held at the Longwood Cricket Club grounds, Thursday, with every foot of parking space reserved days in advance. One of the big events of the day is the competition for the Richard Saltonstall Memorial Fund. Among those who have entered for this prize are Miss Betty Sargent, Miss Edith Towner, Miss Eleanor Little, Miss Catherine Little, Miss Nancy McNeil, Miss Anne Beebe, Miss Betty Tricomb, Miss Janet MacNeil, Miss Emily Saltonstall, Miss Mary Rogers, Miss Merdie Bemis, Peter Saltonstall, William T. Already horses scheduled for the Memorial Day show are being sent to the Eastern Horse Club and many other local homes. Philadelphia will be well represented. The Ambrose Clarke of Long Island and Alken, who makes the trip to the nonchalant characteristic of born racing fans.

WHILE CLUB MEMBERS PUT THEIR HORSES IN SHOW SHAPE the horses are being put through a "school" every day at Racedale, the Framingham place of John R. Macomber, where they are scheduled for a "dress rehearsal" on June 8 before the Milford Hunt calls the large gallery from the scene. All the prominent racehorse owners connected with the Eastern Horse Club will be present, and afterwards Mr. Goodwin, race secretary, will serve breakfast. The daily crowd watching the horses at school includes men and women from Chestnut Hill, Brookline, Hamilton and Boston, who make the trip to the nonchalant characteristic of born racing fans.

THIS IS THE WEDDING DAY OF MISS KATHLEEN BAKER, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harold Baker of West Hill st. and Louis Starr in Grace Church, New York. The Rev. Dr. W. Russell Bowls, his rector, performed the ceremony, which will be followed by a reception at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Henry Worthington Bull, 117 East 82d st. Dr. Elphinstone Nott, a sister, is matron of honor and the bridesmaids are Misses Margaret W. Pearls stage a "high fashion" come-back for Summer

After a long period in which costume jewelry has held the center of the fashion stage, pearls have again returned to favor with the smartest women.

This news was recently verified by the New York office of E. T. Slattery Company through what is known as a "fashion count." A fashion reporter was sent to four of the smartest restaurants in New York—The Ritz, Pierre's, The Colony Club, and The Embassy—and a careful count was made of the number of women internationally known for their chic. The number of women wearing pearls, semi-precious stones, coral, and other jewelry was carefully tabulated, with this most interesting result: 212 out of 295 fashionable women in these four ultra-smart restaurants were wearing pearls—real or simulated pearls, in chokers or necklaces.

And this is the kind of fashion reporting which helps to give the E. T. Slattery Company its acknowledged fashion leadership in Boston and New England. Pearls, of course, like the "color," black, have never been out of fashion. But for a considerable time, they have occupied the background of the fashion picture. And now we see pearls again at the forefront of the mode. And this is the kind of fashion information which E. T. Slattery Company is constantly collecting, and which you will find in Slattery Advertisements, or will learn from alert and competent Slattery salespeople.

As examples of the "fashion scoops" which you have recently seen in Slattery advertising, there are Patou's "mermaid silhouette," Jane Regny's overalls for sports, the rose-tinted satin wedding gown, the new high fashion of black-and-white, and many others. In this fashion-alertness, the E. T. Slattery Company is proving its faithfulness to the tradition of fashion-authenticity established by Ellen T. Slattery as far back as 1867, when the head of the House of Slattery went twice a year to Paris to bring back to her patrons (who in those days purchased their dress materials and trimmings, and had them made up by seamstresses under their supervision) the newest and most exclusive fashions.

Today, the E. T. Slattery Company maintains offices in London, Paris, Berlin, Vienna and elsewhere—and the cables bring back the latest fashion news. For smart Boston women want their new fashions today as quickly almost, as they appear in Paris. As an instance of the speed with which a store that is fashion-alert must work is the case of the presentation by Slattery in last Sunday's newspaper advertising of new felt hats in bisque-beige, the originals by Reboux, Patou, Agnes and Alphonse having been in this country less than three days, during which brief time, exact copies were rushed to Slattery's.

Armed with this authentic fashion knowledge, the E. T. Slattery Company has been able to demonstrate to smart women that fashions correct and in good taste need not be expensive.

We thought Mello-glo was only a powder

When we think that American women, alone, spend nearly two billion-dollar a year to make themselves beautiful—and who blames them—we're not surprised that we shouldn't know about all the ways that the female of the species can spend her billions. We knew about Mello-glo powder—so fragrant in its stunning gold-colored box. What we didn't know though, was much more. For Mello-glo is a wonderful French beauty treatment, complete from the initial delicately scented cleansing cream to the last beautifying touch of lipstick, holding the ideal of that "rose-leaf skin" that every well-groomed woman wishes to have—or, having, strives to keep.

LAST JURY IN FEDERAL BLDG. IS LENIENT

The last grand jury to sit in the federal building today returned a list of 43 liquor indictments and 22 no bills, the majority of the latter concerning individuals prosecuted by city or state under the prohibition law.

Heading the list of true bills is Simon Nyman, Chelsea high school junior, who was indicted for possessing denatured alcohol without a permit and transporting it illegally.

The large number of no bills represented, according to Assistant U. S. Dist. Atty. Elihu D. Stone, the jury's belief that one punishment is sufficient and where municipal prosecution should not necessarily follow. Most of the no bills had to do with illegal transportation, and failure to indict saved many from having their automobiles confiscated.

Judge James M. Morton, senior district judge, delivered an address in the nature of a valedictory to the retiring jurors. He contrasted the federal court business of 50 years ago, when the federal building opened, in conditions today, declaring that "trivial and minor matters" today occupy a great deal of the court's attention whereas a half century ago only cases of import, and were brought before it.

Famous old sea cases, especially the Brem murder trial, were recalled by Judge Morton.

The greatest change in the administration of federal law in its relation to crime is the different attitude toward the criminal, he said. Circumstances of the crime are now taken into consideration, he pointed out. This effort tends to make the law respected and at the same time results in the infliction of punishment which will not "break" the individual.

"Breaking sentences" should be said, but rarely imposed, Judge Morton said, and only in cases where the defendant is a menace to the public. But in such cases there should be no half-way measures.

The next federal grand jury will convene in Young's hotel building.

Workmen expect to have the building ready for federal occupancy next Sunday night. Today while lowering the old shield sign of the hotel they uncovered an inscription, "Barriester Hall," inscribed in the bricks.

Old-timers in City Hall recalled that in Civil War days the structure had been used as an office building for lawyers and engineers.

FORESTERS TO INSTALL BOARD

New officers of the Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters high court will be installed tomorrow at 8 o'clock at the headquarters, Worcester, at the corner of South Main and South End.

All members of the high standing committee will be inducted into office with the exception of High Chief Ranger James A. Donovan of Springfield.

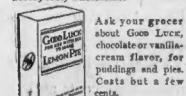

Donovan was installed on the last day of the golden jubilee convention, so that members from the western part of the state might witness the ceremonies. Past High Chief Ranger James H. Benson of Springfield will be the installing officer.

Those to be installed include High Vice-Chief Ranger Joseph P. McCabe of Atlantic, High Secretary-Treasurer Joseph J. Foye of Boston, High Senior Conductor Joseph A. Cahalan of Boston, High Medical Examiner Dr. Francis J. Hanley of Whitman, High Junior Conductor Mrs. Helena M. Galvin of Dorchester, High Inside Sentinel Ralph Smith of Charlestown and High Outside Sentinel William J. Barry of Roxbury.

AUTO HITS GIRL $5,000,000 IN WEYMOUTH MALONEY WILL

Miss Phyllis Murdoch, of 27½ North Weymouth, is in a serious condition in the Weymouth hospital from injuries suffered when struck by an automobile early today.

The girl was waiting for a bus at Evans st. and Briggs st., when a machine operated by Edward Joyce of 51 Fayet st., Cambridge, swerved from the street onto the sidewalk and knocked her to the pavement.

She was picked up by Serg. George Hunt of the Weymouth police and taken to the hospital. Joyce made a statement on the accident, but as yet no charge has been brought against him.

Stuffed Baked Potatoes Select six medium-sized potatoes, scrub and remove blemishes. Cut a thin slice from one end of each and place on a baking sheet. Bake in oven for 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 350° F. and reduce the heat after the first ten minutes. Complete the baking in a moderate oven. Remove the top from each potato lengthwise, scoop out the inside in a moderate oven. Mash well with a fork and pile the mixture lightly in the shells, sprinkle with paprika and bake five to ten minutes in a hot oven.

TOM AND TONY LORE KIDS TO CIRCUS

The curfew rang several hours late last night for 10,000 "youngsters" from six years old to 60 who crowded beneath the big canvas top at Andrew P. South Boston.

To see the stars in the Sells-Top to Circus put on an all-star performance. From the very first minute of the show, which was Tom and Tony Lore, who were the ring, waving members of the circus.

Tommie, the world's greatest ring comedian, with the original Hannaford family supporting him, convulsed the throng with his acrobatic clowning while dling hair-raising tricks with his horses.

Julius Jacob sent thrills through the crowd as he put a group of African lions through their paces to the snap of the whip and the discharge of a revolver. Roars of applause greeted him when he finished his act by separating two roaring lions as they started to fight.

There is the pretty Miss Irene Ledgett and Miss Peggy Marshall, who housed 200 tons of elephants around just as if they were little dogs, an example of "Beauty and the Beast" with Beauty winning all the way.

Another animal act which met with great favor was that conducted by Allen King, billed as the peer of wild animal tamer. With 20 growling tigers in a small cage, he displayed his power over them by making them act like playful kittens instead of the fiercest fighters of the jungle.

Acrobats swung in wide arcs from the top of the tent, turning somersaults in mid-air and grasping a swinging trapeze just in time to prevent a fall into the net. Miss Mabel Peile gave an exhibition of endurance by hanging by one hand from a pole and turning over 100 times.

At regular intervals throughout the performance, Tommie, the original Hannaford, dashed around the ring accompanied by his hard-driving subbers, and at each appearance he was greeted with roars of applause.

At the big moment of the show came when Cliff Aerna, the human bullet, crawled into the big cannon to be shot into space. Not a sound could be heard in the tent as Aerna disappeared down the mouth of the gun. Then as a deafening roar sounded through the big top, Aerna sailed through the air for 60 feet, to land in a net and come up smiling.

The "surprise" rang and the "youngsters" called it a night.

Arrest and Suicide Solve German Jewel Robbery

Berlin, May 28 (AP)—Solution of a jewel robbery that had mystified police since Christmas today carried with it the suicide of a former army officer and arrest of his fiancée, 25-year-old Constance Hagen von Hagen.

Berlin society was shocked when the countess was arrested charged with the theft of 25,000 jewels from her aunt, Countess Hermerberg. The countess was not even suspected until she attempted to kill the police.

Her fiancée, former Capt. Fritz von Wedel, was summoned for questioning. Today he was found dead, a suicide.

N. Bond & Co.

U. S. TREATY ON IRAQ COMPLETE

Washington, May 28 (AP)—Negotiations for a tri-partite treaty of the United States, Great Britain and the Kingdom of Iraq, have been concluded and the signature of the treaty is expected shortly by officials of the State Department.

The principal purposes are the recognition of the sovereignty of Iraq by the United States and the protection of American interests in the kingdom, which is a mandated territory under Great Britain. Five American oil companies are participating with British, French and Dutch interests in the development of the Iraq oil fields.

CHINESE KIDNAP POLICE DECIDE U.S. MISSIONARY NO AUTO JAM IN BANDIT RAID MAY 30TH

Amoy, Fukien, China, May 28 (AP)—American missionary refugees, attired in Chinese clothing as bandits, arrived here today from Lungyenchow, where one of their number, Dr. C. H. Holliman of Springfield, N. D., was made captive by Communists May 25. The refugees said 200 Communist soldiers attacked the mission compound of the American Reformed Presbyterian Mission, shouting: "The Russians are furnishing us with money and we are giving our lives. You foreigners are imperialists."

Provincial soldiers numbering 200 offered a futile defense, being overpowered by Communists, who seized the mission and forced Dr. Holliman to go with them. Dr. Holliman was led away with his hands bound behind his back. His wife said, Mrs. Mary P. Holliman, escaped with only two small baskets of personal effects, everything else being taken in the looting.

Thrilling Six-Day Novel by a Noted Author

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR: Iona Farr, gets a position with Max Weinmar's music publishing house in New York. Her friend, Marie Carey, is engaged to Palmer Elliott, a young lawyer, and plans to marry him on a fifty-fifty basis. She is always holding her nose to the model Iona's sister, Jeannette, who is married, but a small social snob. Iona, who is a fine pianist in a smart New York shop, Iona, Weinmar's office manager, takes Iona to the Pan Alley where she meets the famous song writer, Willie Speed, and persuades Antonio Rios, a matinee idol, to use Speed's new song after Rios has failed. Weinmar is delighted. Iona goes on a picnic with Alan Blake, an accountant, for the Weinmar concern. Blake neglects her and she goes motoring with NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER I

IT WAS dark when the car stopped in Loyal.

"Iona," he touched her hands, slipping his arm around her and gathered her toward him, life brushing her hair, but she drew back—put her hand up.

"No! Ah—didn't! No—oh, no!"

"I love you, little Iona. The moment I saw you—sweetness, beauty—so dear. I thought you liked me a bit!"

"Oh, I do—indeed I do!"

He sent for her early Monday morning to close the door. You know I'm sorry? Why I wouldn't hurt you—cause you're a girl, and you're so lovely, I don't want to hurt you. I can't take the things back; they're all mine. I said, I won't do it again. Ah—forgiveness.

He held out his hand. She had a quick, warming sense of his hearted sincerity. "Well—of course."

"And were going to be patient? Good friends? But you'll see. He gave her some manuscript. Continued on Page 21, Column 1.

MAN MOUNTAIN OF MAT

Trust Buster Is Backed by Many Fans to Take Championship

By JACK CONWAY
GUS SONNENBERG's title as world's heavyweight wrestling champion will hang in the balance when he battles Marin Plestina, Trust Buster, in a finish match, best two falls out of three, at the New Boston Arena tonight under the direction of Paul Bowser.

Betting on the bout is at even money. There are many keen followers of the mat game who believe that the champion will change hands tonight. They contend that Trust Buster is too powerful and experienced for the champion who has won a little bit stale as a result of an strenuous six months' campaign in all parts of the world.

Promoter Bowser has safeguarded his own interest by signing Plestina for 12 matches. He also made the Trust Buster agree to take Sonny as his first opponent within 10 days in the event he wins the title this evening. The bout will give Plestina his first shot at the world's championship. For years he trailed Strangler Lewis, Earl Caddock and Joe Blecher. Lewis and Caddock didn't agree to meet Plestina under any conditions.

Sonnenberg denies he has gone stale. He admits he has been returned from his recent tour, but he says he is his old self again and that he will be at his best when he sweeps into action tonight. Dynamite, a typical college athlete, refuses to put out any alibi in advance. If defeated, he will probably give full credit to Plestina.

The title battle has attracted unusual interest and it is expected that the arena will be jammed to capacity.

MR. BOSTON

JACK CONWAY

PHIL SCHLOSSBERG, manager of Ernie Schaaf, edged his way into the press room at the arena so as to get a close-up of the Rawson-Smith jam.

"I'd like to match Schaaf with Rawson," said Phil after Big Boy was declared a winner on a technical knockout. "I figure Ernie would knock Rawson for a loop."

"Rawson is a sweet sucker, but he's got no defense. He's a pipe to hit. Schaaf would take everything he has to offer in the way of punches and knock him stiff inside of three frames. Mark that one down in the book for reference in case the match is ever made."

"SCHAFF improved his standing as a heavyweight contender by his showing against Tommy Loughran," said Mr. Boston. "Ernie showed fine boxing form and a heavy punch in his tussle with the world's light heavyweight champion. It was by far the best ring effort of Schaaf's career."

"As Ernie is only 29 years of age, he will keep right on improving. He would make a perfect opponent for either Rawson, Maloney or Bertazzolo. He would rule a favorite over Rawson, while he would be at least an even money bet with either Maloney or Bertazzolo."

BOXING COMMISSIONER EUGENE BUCKLEY, a keen judge of ring men, considered Jack Sharkey the best of the heavyweight contenders.

"Sharkey has the boxing class and speed beades a good punch," said the commissioner. "Sharkey is one of the few heavyweights who knows how to punch properly to the body with a right hand. I have seen Sharkey do heavy execution with this blow, especially after he has made his opponent miss."

"I believe that with experience Sharkey's ring generalship has improved. He appears to have the edge on the other heavyweights."

"For Sharkey's own good as a boxer, I would like to see him keep active in the ring. By frequent matches he will keep in better condition and will avoid ring rust. He can be the next heavyweight champion of the world if he cares to work hard. And I think that the Sharkey of today is an earnest young man who will not neglect anything which will take him to the top of the heavyweight division."

EDDIE MACK didn't permit such a little thing as an arena club show to prevent him from bellybouncing the Mellon-Jones bout, which will be staged at the Boston Garden on next Monday night.

"Jones had Merlo down twice in their New York bout," declared the enthusiastic Mack, "and unless Al puts up the best battle of his career he's likely to get a pasting."

Mack figures that this last statement will help to stimulate the box office sale.

"I would not be surprised," chirped Mr. Boston, "if Jones goes to the post a 10-to-7 betting choice over Al."

THE preliminary bouts have all been good," remarked George Freeman, "Col. Bob McKinley is in a class by himself when it comes to putting the local ring rituals. Didn't that Baker kid from Waterbury look good as he knocked out Tommy Burns?"

Mr. Boston readily agreed with George.

MILLS MATCH LIKELY FOR RAWSON

By RINGSIDE

Big Boy Rawson will probably be matched with Bob Mills as a result of his two-round technical knockout of Ralph Smith at an arena club show at the New Boston Arena.

Mills holds a knockout win over Rawson and is of the opinion he can repeat. It is likely that the tussle will be staged by the arena club at Fenway Park next month.

The first round of the Rawson-Smith bout produced all kinds of stirring moments. Rawson, a heavy favorite in the betting, was knocked down twice by the gigantic Smith.

Neither occasion did Big Boy take the full benefit of the count.

The first time Rawson went down he was up at the count of three, while the second time he hit the canvas he was up at five. It would have been better for him to have taken the benefit of the count as he was in a groggy condition on each occasion when he regain his feet.

In the second chapter the big fellows once more started leading with right hands. One of Rawson's nicks rocked Smith.

George Lawrence, Smith's chief second, then tossed in a towel, ending the battle. Lawrence said he considered Smith was in a hopeless condition and he wanted to save him from a knockout. Smith himself wanted to continue.

Hy Diamond and Charley Parker, local rivals, furnished another sensational battle in the eight-round semifinal. Diamond once more left the ring with the decision, but Parker again got the cheers.

The boys sat a dizzy clip during the first four rounds. They then used and were obliged to show down during the closing chapters.

Leslie Baker, former amateur champion, knocked out Tommy Burns of Lynn with a right-hand punch after 1 minute 27 seconds of fighting in the first round. The Waterbury youth made an impressive showing.

Tommy Dwyer of Waltham was awarded the verdict over Goodie Schwartz of Cambridge after a fast six-round match.

Joe Conley of Dorchester disposed of Jack Harris of Somerville in six rounds.

Stanley Winnick of Lawrence outscored Al Capone of Cambridge in six heats.

CHENIE MACK, manager of the Athletics, was a spectator at the Boston College-Georgetown game, which the Eagles won, 12 to 10, and it is now rumored that Al Weston, E. C. captain, may be sporting an elephant on his jersey next month after he is graduated.

Connie craned his neck every time the big B. C. first sacker walked to plate. But he didn't see Al in real form. Weston was called out on one occasion on a very poor strike, and drove a long fly to center field in his only other time at bat.

Al played a great game in the field, even though he didn't have a chance to display just why he is sporting a batting average of .290.

AT LYNN

The first outdoor boxing show of the season was held by the Crescent A. C. at the General Electric Field in Lynn.

Plenty of action was seen in the prelim bouts. Tony Magina of Boston whipped Tommy Quigley of Cambridge in six rounds.

Scots Roulter of South East Fred Cunningham of Cambridge in six rounds.

Arthur Nelson of Lynn defeated Mickey Metart of Revere in six rounds.

Winny Harbo of Lynn dropped Jim Liberti of Lynn in the fourth round.

Chapman Will Face B. A. A. TEAM IN Keen Opposition

GEORGE CHAPMAN, winner of last Saturday's opening race at the Revere cycle track, will face stiffer opposition this weekend when he lines up in the 10-mile motor-paced race.

His opponents Saturday will be Francesco Zucchetti, the Italian Larry Giffney and Franz Duoberg, the German star.

Zucchetti right now is at the top of his form. He is practically "fit" and even Giffney, the champion, is having trouble in downing his countryman.

As a supporting event to the Sunday Saturday night, Nat Butler plans to hold a tandem match race. It will be run in three heats, each of a mile. The names of the cyclists in this event will be announced in a day or so.

Chapman Will Face B. A. A. TEAM IN Keen Opposition

GEORGE CHAPMAN, winner of last Saturday's opening race at the Revere cycle track, will face stiffer opposition this weekend when he lines up in the 10-mile motor-paced race.

His opponents Saturday will be Francesco Zucchetti, the Italian Larry Giffney and Franz Duoberg, the German star.

Zucchetti right now is at the top of his form. He is practically "fit" and even Giffney, the champion, is having trouble in downing his countryman.

As a supporting event to the Sunday Saturday night, Nat Butler plans to hold a tandem match race. It will be run in three heats, each of a mile. The names of the cyclists in this event will be announced in a day or so.

HARVARD ENTERS TWENTY FOR INTERCOLLEGIATE 4-A HONORS

EXPECTS TO WIN MANY POINTS

TWENTY Harvard trackmen will appear in the I. C. 4-A meet Saturday at Franklin Field, Philadelphia. Coach Ed die Farrell announced today.

With Mason and Tupper in the century dash and the 220, Cummings in the 440, and the veterans, Cobb, Koch and Porter in the half-mile, Harvard can expect considerable point scoring in these shorter distances.

In the mile and two-mile runs, the Crimson has Capt. Jimmie Reid, Leslie Plakeman and Tim Wilkes, all consistent performers in their distances, and to be counted on as point winners.

Dick O'Connell and Marzulli will be paired in the 12½-hurdle race, while Harvard has a lot to fear in George Tupper in the low hurdle race.

The Crimson is looking for strong support in the five events, and has seven men entered. With Brown in the high jump, Moore and Harding, totaling five javelin, Harvard will give her competitors plenty to think about. Vanech is entered in the hammer throw, and Albrook will hurl the discus.

Although Art French, Henessey, Munroe and Dunlap are out, Farrell thinks that with Coach Tupper and his unenviable task, Harvard has a good chance in come through a winner.

B. C. Sending 5 Men to College 4-A Meet

Boston College's squad which will participate in the I. C. 4-A meet at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, next Saturday afternoon, will consist of five men, Coach Jack Tyler announced today.

Tommy Meagher, Bill Mulcahy, John Woodworth, Charley Finn and Capt. George Wilkewicz comprise the B. C. team which will leave for the games on Thursday morning.

Meagher is a miler, Mulcahy and Woodworth, quarter miler, Finn is a dashman and Capt. Wilkewicz is an all-around star.

The second two points in the New England intercollegiate which he ran week and week with Daley and Morin of Holy Cross for a place in the 100.

Wilkewicz picked up six points, getting a second in the shot, and in the 120-yard hurdle and fourth in the javelin. He'll compete in these three events in the intercollegiate.

GRAY SCHOOL BASEBALL

By DICK McKEENEY

The Gray School baseball season is rapidly nearing its close, but many of the nine have important duties ahead for this week.

While today's struggles have their own special following, Wednesday's team will be the most important.

Some of the headlines on the Wednesday bill are the Lawrence-Lawrence, Medford Cambridge, and Newton-Brookline, and Woburn-Woburn games.

Lawrence will come to Medford with an evenly-balanced team and a great pitcher to McCormack.

Lawrence has beaten a number of strong nines this season and will give Medford a hard battle.

George Brown or Jim Kelly will be groomed for mound duty against the invaders and Coach Goodreau is hoping that his Gold and Blue bunch will be able to sweat out a win.

MEDFORD FAVORED

Medford appears to have a slight edge on Cambridge Latin as the Cantabrigia pitch the Cantabs are better in the line and at the advantage at bat. Casey or Browning will tell on the mound for Cambridge. Latin and Solomons.

Leavitt will be Medford's pitching ace in this contest. Newton and Brookline will battle at Brookline. These rivals always furnish very exciting competition in whatever sport they meet. West Newton's ball team should be no exception to this fact.

Nichols has been doing well in the box for the Orange and Black but the club does miss Bill Riley's hitting efforts.

Madden or O'Neill of Brookline are set to pitch and the team has shown a lot of confidence in its own over Rindge.

Winchester, Watertown, Myrtle Valley circuit rivals, will attempt to clinch in the line standing at each other's expense. Smith, who has been a real asset for the Watertown nine, is apt to face Winchester ball-bats.

GROTON VS. ST. MARKS

Groton and St. Mark's traditional enemies in sport, get their game under way at Southboro. This contest should be worth watching.

Dean Anderson and St. John's players will follow up with another quality game on Saturday.

Lois will hurt for the prep team on Saturday at Franklin. If he is in usual form Dean will have to pitch.

Arlington and Wakefield stage a get-together at the latter's field and things look bright for Arlington. Lane or Grew will draw the pitching margin in the Wakefield game.

On the North Shore, Winthrop will visit Lynn English and will go to the Shore City as underdog. English has a fine array of hitters and better than average pitching.

Another North Shore spectacle unfolds at Andover, where Faversham is entertained. Neither of these clubs has done very much this season, but are playing a fair brand of ball.

PITCHER'S BATTLE LOOMS

A pitcher's battle is promised at Woburn, where the home team plays host to Stoneham. Thorough and Waffar will be the opposing pitchers and the game will be a close affair.

The hitting of Marston and Adairson for Stoneham is expected to add the visiting club.

Other excellent tilts: Holy Cross Fresh at Exeter, Brighton Academy at Hebron, Cushing Academy at Norwood, Methuen at Belmont, School of Practical Art at Waltham, Yeshiva at Haverhill, Hill at Walpole and Killynally at Woburn.

Winthrop meets Quince's team on the Quince grounds today.

BIG MEN MEMBERS TO BE INVESTIGATED

By DICK McKEENEY

CHICAGO, May 28 (AP)—An investigation of the nine remaining members of the Western Conference to determine whether they, like Iowa University, should be the subject of censure action, has been started, it was announced today by Maj. John L. Griffith, commissioner of Big Ten athletics.

Dean James Page of the University of Minnesota, is head of a special investigating committee, which was named last Saturday. The act, Maj. Griffith said, is in line with the decision of the

The Reserve Board is being bitterly condemned for its wobbling. Even speculators now declare that although the present reduction in rates would be less harmful than continued uncertainty. Perhaps the board reasons similarly; that is, any reduction in rates would be less harmful than the uncertainty. The board is more likely to check speculation and brokers' borrowings than definite action.

Secretary Mellon may favor a 5 per cent reduction for one reason; he has no alternative financing to conduct next year and may prefer a 5 per cent rate to a 6 per cent official discount rate.

OS ANGELES, May 28.—(Wireless)

Lumum is called extraordinary inasmuch as she has never appeared in a picture since her marriage to William H. Hart, six years ago. That Miss Westover was selected to play the lead in "Lumum"

was only because of her

CHARLESTOWN

DOUBLE

Star and Double

Edward Thompson, eight, of 17

Green st., Charlestown, has been selected by a committee of judges

as the boy of the Boston American Lindbergh Club who most closely resembles Frankie Darro, the juvenile movie star who plays a leading role in "The Rainbow Man".

The decision was reached after the judges spent nearly a week going through the mass of pictures which were submitted to the Boston American Lindbergh Club.

Edward wins the free trip to

New York which was offered by the Public Theaters of Boston. He has been seen by the committee and will be the official representative of the Public Theaters for the occa-
